

Flexible Spending Account (FSA) Quick Start Guide

Congratulations on enrolling in your Flexible Spending Account(s)! This quick start guide will provide you with the important information you need to know to begin using your benefit account including an overview of your benefit account, important tips to help you maximize your benefit account, and information on how easy it is to access your funds.

Types of Flexible Spending Accounts

FSAs are pre-tax benefit accounts that are used to pay for eligible expenses. There are multiple types of FSAs that may be available to you:

Health Care FSA

A Health Care FSA is an account that's used to pay for qualified medical, prescription, dental, and vision expenses not covered by your health plan.

Limited Purpose FSA

A Limited Purpose FSA is a health care spending account that can only be used to pay for eligible vision and dental expenses. A Limited Purpose FSA works with an HSA-eligible health plan and a Health Savings Account (HSA). A Limited Purpose FSA also allows reimbursement for preventive care not covered by your health plan.

Dependent Care FSA

A Dependent Care FSA is used to pay for eligible dependent care expenses, such as preschool, summer day camp, before or after school programs, and daycare expenses.

Overview of Benefit Accounts

Eligible Expenses

Your benefit account is a great way to receive tax savings on qualified expenses. The qualified expenses are defined by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). For a complete list of the qualified expenses, make sure to review the pertinent IRS publication:

- Health Care & Limited Purpose FSA: IRS Publication 502
- Dependent Care FSA: IRS Publication 503

Covered Individuals

- Health Care & Limited Purpose FSA: You can submit expenses incurred by yourself, spouse and your eligible dependents.
- Dependent Care FSA: You can reimburse yourself for eligible dependent care expenses.

Monitor Your Account

You should check your account periodically to make sure you utilize your full balance before the end of the plan year, submit any additional documentation, and make updates to your account.

Keep Your Receipts

The IRS requires that all expenses be validated to ensure that they are truly eligible. As a result, there may be times when Fidelity will request validation of the expense. To save you time, keep all your receipts or snap a photo of them for your records, so you have them available in case we need them.

Recurring Claims (Dependent Care FSA only)

If you have regular daycare expenses, you can submit a recurring dependent care reimbursement form and we will automatically reimburse you for your expenses. This is a time saving, easy way to set up your reimbursement once and receive regular payments.
